

some of the conditions kinesiology can help

abdominal pain “acid” stomach
allergies and food sensitivities anxiety and phobias “arthritic” aches and pains
back pain
breast pain
candida
catarrh and persistent coughs chronic fatigue
constipation and bloating diverticulitis
dehydration
depression
digestive disorders

dyslexia and learning difficulties eczema
emotional stress
frequent infections
headaches
immune system problems
indigestion
insomnia
irritable bowel syndrome
m.e. migraines
nausea
sinus problems
skin conditions
tension

Gilli Craig - BA(hons), Dip AK MNL

www.gillicraig.co.uk or gilli@gillicraig.co.uk

Gilli Craig has trained with the Academy of Systematic Kinesiology and is registered with the Association of Systematic Kinesiology. She continues to update her knowledge with on-going professional courses. She is also a Master Practitioner of Neuro-Linguistic Programming.